*All undergraduate exceptional ("special") admits (admissions basis = H, I, T, U) are EXCLUDED from the table because their patterns of app. to admit to enroll are so different from regularly admissible undergrads, and hence their changing numbers or differing proportion of undergraduate categories over time artificially change the admit and yield rates.

All other types of applications, such as a returning student, a returning transfer student, or a transitory student have likewise been EXCLUDED from the table for similar reasons.

Upper division transfer: enrollment status = 4 (transfer) and level = 3 or 4 (junior or senior)

*All undergraduate exceptional ("special") admits (admissions basis = H, I, T, U) are EXCLUDED from the table because their patterns of app. to admit to enroll are so different from regularly admissible undergrads, and hence their changing numbers or differing proportion of undergraduate categories over time artificially change the admit and yield rates.

All other types of applications, such as a returning student, a returning transfer student, or a transitory student have likewise been EXCLUDED from the table for similar reasons.
