INTRODUCTION

Classroom activity is devoted to the academic development of the learner. Student Affairs offers programs that support the academic program and simultaneously provide students with services and opportunities for personal growth. Some Student Affairs programs such as housing and financial aid emphasize their service and educationally supportive roles; others, such as counseling, accentuate their developmental aspects. The opportunities offered by Student Affairs vary from the traditional social activities to lectures and concerts funded through Associated Students, CSUF, Inc. Developmental activities include the exploration of personal and vocational life styles, and leadership and training.

Student Affairs comprises Academic Appeals, Assistant Deans for Student Affairs, Associated Students, CSUF, Inc., Athletics Academic Services, Career Center, Dean of Students Office, Counseling and Psychological Services, Disabled Student Services, Educational Partnerships, Financial Aid, Guardian Scholars Program, Honors and Scholars Support Services, Housing and Residence Life, Intercollegiate Athletics, Student Academic Services, Student Health and Counseling Center, University Learning Center, and Women's Center/Adult Re-entry/Veterans Student Services.

Langsdorf Hall 805
657-278-3221

The vice president's office coordinates and supervises all Student Affairs services and programs. The vice president is responsible for the quality of student life on the campus and works with faculty, administration and students to improve the campus environment. This office is also charged with administering the University's academic appeals procedure and the student disciplinary codes.

ACADEMIC APPEALS

Langsdorf Hall 805
657-278-3836

Student Appeal of Grade Disputes or Charges of Academic Dishonesty

Students have the right of due process if they feel they have been treated unfairly or with prejudice. They may appeal a grade dispute or charge of academic dishonesty to the coordinator of academic appeals, who will guide them through the procedure to be followed. The student must go through several steps seeking to resolve the issue before it can be considered by the Academic Appeals Board, which is comprised of three faculty members and two students.

There is a strict time limit for the appeals process. The student must meet with the faculty member within 30 calendar days of the first day of the following semester (spring or fall). If the appeal cannot be resolved with the faculty member, department chair or dean, a written appeal must be submitted to the coordinator of academic appeals within 60 calendar days of the first day of the following semester. Contact the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs for further information.

ASSISTANT DEANS FOR STUDENT AFFAIRS

The assistant deans for Student Affairs assist students in their matriculation at the University by providing an environment conducive to academic and personal growth. The assistant deans serve a vital role representing the division of Student Affairs within the academic colleges. Actively working with students, faculty and staff, the assistant deans integrate the holistic developmental philosophy of Student Affairs within the academic setting and engage the entire University community in academic and co-curricular learning.

ATHLETICS ACADEMIC SERVICES

Langsdorf Hall 209

657-278-3057

The mission of Athletics Academic Services is to provide academic and life skills support to assist student-athletes in reaching his/her academic goals. Athletics Academic Services works closely with faculty, coaches and other student support offices to ensure the academic success of Titan student-athletes. Such support programs include academic advisement, academic counseling, priority registration, tutoring, study hall, grade checks, academic awards, life skills programming and University 115.

CAREER CENTER

Langsdorf Hall 208

657-278-3121

The Career Center provides career planning, employment and graduate and professional school services. The center has designed many programs and services to fit the career exploration, planning and employment needs of our diverse student population. One of the most popular services is listings of local, part-time and internship opportunities for Cal State Fullerton students.

Whether a student is just beginning to think about a major or a career, or is ready to look for a job, the center has counseling and programs that will help define and achieve their career goals. The center draws upon both on-and off-campus contacts and resources by working closely with employers and faculty to plan career programs.

The center's website, fullerton.edu/career, is the first place to check for up-to-date information about all of our events, activities, and services. On our website, you will find the calendar of events, the logon page for the Titan Connection jobs database, career information pages created by industry specialist staff, links to employer websites, links to job search sites, resume writing tips, interview preparation, job search techniques, career planning timeline, graduate and professional school resources, a mobile friendly version of our Career Guide publication, and lists of employers attending campus events.

Opportunities for employment and internships are located on the Titan Connection jobs database, fullerton.edu/career. The Titan Connection jobs database provides a list of student assistant positions on-campus, internships, and full- and part-time employment opportunities in the community.

Brief, "drive-thru" 10 minute walk-in advising is offered and is often the first stop for all students who visit the Career Center. This is where the career decision-making process and labor market research can begin. Career counseling is available by appointment to assist students in developing career goals, determine methods of obtaining those goals and implementing a viable job or career plan.

The center offers a Virtual Career Center, where students have access to several online resources from on-and off-campus on a 24/7 basis through their student portal. Some of the available resources through the Virtual Career Center, in addition to the Titan Connection Jobs database are; Titan Resume Builder, InterviewStream, Fergusons Career Guidance Center Database, and Career Assessments.

Each fall the Career Center sponsors a Graduate School Prep Week in addition to a Graduate and Professional School Expo that is attended by representatives from approximately over 100 schools and programs. Representatives come to campus to share information about their program and to recruit Cal State Fullerton students.

In the spring semester an Education Networking Expo is held to offer students wanting to pursue careers in education with networking opportunities with various school district representatives and other education related organizations.

The Engineering and Computer Science Career Fair is held every spring semester. This event offers engineering, computer science, and students in natural sciences and mathematics an opportunity to meet and network with various industry representatives who are offering career opportunities.

The Internship and Career Expo is held each fall and spring semester and offers excellent opportunities for students to meet with employers, to apply for positions, and to explore career and professional options. Students can meet with representatives from a variety of business, non-profit and government organizations to ask questions and collect career-related information.

A comprehensive series of workshops and seminars are scheduled each semester. The workshops may include the following topics: career planning, resume writing, interview skills, dress to impress, job search techniques, networking in person and online, graduate and professional school planning and preparation, statement of purpose workshops, and other college-to-work related topics.

The Campus Interview Program brings employers to campus each semester to conduct interviews for current professional job openings. The program provides graduating seniors, graduate students, and alumni with opportunities to interview with these employers.

The Career Resource Library contains an extensive collection of job search, occupational and labor market information. A checkout system has been instituted that enables students to borrow materials overnight or over the weekend.

The Career Center staff is responsive to the needs of students, alumni, and employers. Services are available without cost to currently enrolled undergraduate and graduate students, as well as alumni who are within one year of their graduation date.

The Career Center also conducts research on the initial employment and graduate school admission experiences of our graduates. A summary is available on the web at fullerton.edu/career.

COUNSELING AND PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES

Student Health and Counseling

Center - East Building

657-278-3040

The Counseling and Psychological Services staff is dedicated to providing high quality and effective case management support, psychological counseling and brief psychotherapy to registered students who are facing problems in their lives, their studies and their relationships. The ultimate objective of CAPS is to contribute in a significant way to student learning and to the development of CSUF students as productive and psychologically healthy adults.

CAPS staff members are trained mental health professionals who are licensed psychologists, licensed clinical social workers, and marriage and family therapists, doctoral-level psychological counselors, and supervised graduate trainees. Any student who is currently enrolled at CSUF is eligible for counseling services; couples may also be seen if both are students at CSUF. Groups and workshops on a variety of topics are offered each semester.

DISABLED STUDENT SERVICES

University Hall 101

657-278-3117

657-278-2408 (fax)

The Office of Disabled Student Services provides assistance and offers support services to students with temporary and permanent disabilities. The purpose of this program is to make all of the University's educational, cultural, social, and physical facilities and programs accessible to students with orthopedic, functional, perceptual, psychological, and/or learning disabilities. The program serves as the delegated authority on campus to review documentation and prescribe specific accommodations for students with disabilities. The professional and support staff are experienced in serving the particular needs of persons with disabilities.

The program works in close cooperation with other University departments in order to provide a full range of services. These services include academic accommodations (readers, note takers, ASL interpreters/RTC, alternative testing), accessible technology and instructional materials, counseling, temporary disabled person parking, application assistance and priority registration, as well as referral for diagnostic assessment, academic advisement, career counseling and job-placement, housing, transportation, and disability advocacy.

The program encourages involvement and input from students, faculty and staff in order to maintain a responsive and quality program. Information regarding programs and services available to students with permanent and temporary disabilities may be obtained from the Office of Disabled Student Services.

EDUCATIONAL PARTNERSHIPS

Langsdorf Hall 809

657-278-2486

Educational Partnerships seeks to impact the social tapestry of our community by providing enriching educational programs for students, parents, and the community. We provide opportunities aimed at enhancing academic achievement, personal aspirations, and skills that empower students onto higher education and to be successful. We believe in fostering collaborative relationships with schools, school districts, colleges, universities, and community organizations to provide meaningful educational experiences that impact the lives of students, especially those who come from first-generation, low-income, and underrepresented backgrounds.

GEAR UP (Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness to Undergraduate Programs)

Langsdorf Hall 810

657-278-7783

GEAR UP strives to increase the number of underrepresented students from low-income backgrounds who enter and succeed in postsecondary education. In partnership with the Anaheim Union High School District, the project serves a cohort of students beginning in 7th grade, follows their successes through high school graduation, and helps them progress onto higher education.

Educational Talent Search

Langsdorf Hall 640

657-278-8545

Educational Talent Search encourages and assists eligible high school students with the knowledge and skills to pursue a post-secondary education. CSUF Talent Search Program serves nearly 600 participants annually from four high schools in the Anaheim Unified High School District: Anaheim, Magnolia, Katella, and Savanna high schools.

McNair Scholars

Langsdorf Hall 809

657-278-7667

McNair Scholars provides opportunities for CSUF undergraduate students to engage in research, develop skills and student/faculty mentor relationships that are critical to success at the doctoral level. The program provides year-round services to prepare participants for acceptance into quality doctoral programs. CSUF McNair Scholars serves 25 students each year. All students participate in year round activities until they graduate.

Upward Bound

Langsdorf Hall 630

657-278-3254

Upward Bound prepares high school students from low-income, first-generation, and underrepresented backgrounds to progress onto higher education. The program provides academic enrichment opportunities, financial aid assistance, higher education preparation, and exposure to career opportunities. CSUF Upward Bound serves about 90 students from high schools in the Santa Ana Unified School District: Century, Saddleback, Santa Ana, and Valley high schools.

FINANCIAL AID

University Hall 146

657-278-3125

The Office of Financial Aid is committed to providing eligible students with the necessary financial aid resources to ensure their academic success. The office provides financial assistance to more than 23,000 students annually and administers over $240 million each year through the following student financial assistance programs:

Private Scholarship

Federal Pell Grant

Cal Grant A

Cal Grant B

State University Grant Program

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant

State Educational Opportunity Program Grant

Federal Work Study Program

Federal TEACH Grant

Federal Perkins Loans

Federal Direct Loans

Federal Direct Parent Loans (PLUS)

Federal Direct GRAD PLUS

Alternative Educational Loans

For further information concerning financial aid programs available at the University, see the Registration Procedures section of this catalog, or visit fullerton.edu/financialaid.

GUARDIAN SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Commons 120

657-278-4900

The Guardian Scholars program is committed to supporting ambitious college-bound students exiting the foster care system. Guardian Scholars provides a comprehensive program that contributes to the quality and depth of a student's university experience. The program serves as a resource for young adults by assisting in their development and equipping them with the educational and interpersonal skills necessary to become community leaders, role models and competent professionals in their selected fields.

More than just a scholarship, the Guardian Scholars Program provides:

- Academic support
- Financial assistance
- Year-round housing
- Mentoring opportunities
- Workshops designed to ensure success in college and career

HOUSING AND RESIDENCE LIFE

Housing Administration

fullerton.edu/housing

housing@fullerton.edu

657-278-2168

Cal State Fullerton's on-campus housing accommodates approximately 1,900 students. Housing is divided into three distinct phases. Each phase has the ability to accommodate students with disabilities and offers a unique style of living. Phase I offers apartment-style living that consists of three-bedroom, double occupancy apartments designed to accommodate six students. Phase II offers apartment-style living that consists of four-bedroom, single occupancy apartments designed to accommodate four students. Each apartment is equipped with a stove, refrigerator, dishwasher and microwave oven. Our newest facility, Phase III, opened in fall 2011 and offers a first-year community with a more traditional residence hall experience. Students have double occupancy and a common bathroom shared by eight students. Study space and recreational space is available on each floor.

Dining is included as part of the housing package. All three phases have a meal plan in our new, state-of-the-art dining facility. Students are offered a continuous dining program so they can frequent the dining commons as often as they like during its hours of operation.

The community center offers recreational and academic services, as well as a lounge, game room, and a coin- and card-operated laundry facility for students in all three phases. Barbecue grills and basketball and volleyball courts are also available for leisure and recreational activities to all residents. Each resident has a shared mailbox. Packages can be delivered to our Housing office for pick-up.

The Housing and Residence Life Office also assist students in their search for off-campus housing by providing updated listings of local apartment complexes. Students may advertise in our off campus housing booklet which is available to students who visit our office. Display cards are available for room for rent in private homes. Information is available on referrals for community housing agencies handling landlord/tenant law.

Residence hall space is available for summer session students and for educationally related groups sponsoring workshops and programs on campus. Contact the campus Housing and Residence Life Office for further information.

STUDENT ACADEMIC SERVICES

University Hall 138

657-278-2288

The mission of Student Academic Services is to create an environment where all students have the opportunity to succeed. To achieve its mission, department services and activities are centered on student retention and graduation. Student Academic Services is committed to serving a diverse population and providing students with a rich educational experience.

The department coordinates the services of a number of student programs. These programs give particular attention to the educational needs of low-income and disadvantaged college students to ensure that they have services available to them to successfully complete their college education.

The following programs are administered by Student Academic Services.

Center for Academic Support in Engineering & Computer Science (CASECS)

Computer Science 201

657-278-3879

CASECS is an academic support program designed to recruit, retain and graduate students. The program serves educationally disadvantaged students and emphasizes participation by students from groups with low admission eligibility rates for four-year colleges.

The program offers students assistance in the following areas: admission and matriculation, orientation courses, study center, tutoring, academic counseling, student organizations, and scholarships and incentive grants.

Educational Opportunity Program (EOP)

University Hall 231

657-278-2784

The Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) is charged with improving the access and retention of low-income and educationally disadvantaged students. EOP students have the potential to perform satisfactorily at CSUF, but may be unable to realize this potential due to educational or economic barriers.

EOP provides admission and financial aid information to help students complete the admissions process. In addition, EOP students can make use of academic services such as tutoring, orientation sessions, basic skills workshops and counseling.

Intensive Learning Experience (ILE)

University Hall 234

657-278-7236

Intensive Learning Experience (ILE) serves students who score in the lowest quartile on the English Placement Test and/or the Entry Level Mathematics Examination. ILE strives to increase the retention of students by ensuring their timely enrollment in appropriate developmental math and English courses. The program also makes referrals to other services in Student Academic Services such as counseling and skills workshops.

Student Diversity Program

University Hall 143

657-278-4897

The Student Diversity Program addresses the low retention and graduation rates of student athletes and other at-risk students by improving their use of campus academic support services and by enhancing their academic development and achievement through additional support services tailored to meet their individual needs.

The Student Diversity Program supports a network program for the at-risk student population. The program first provides guidance and retention services to diverse student populations by developing and implementing action plans and programs to address academic, social and cultural needs. Second, the Student Diversity Program maintains a complex early assessment and reporting system to enhance student academic and social interaction.

Student Retention Services

University Hall 143

657-278-2288

Student Retention Services provides a variety of educational support activities to students. Services include: academic advising, personal counseling referrals, basic skills workshops, individual and/or small group tutoring, career exploration workshops and orientation courses.

An essential mission of the office is to increase retention. All retention services are delivered to first- and second-year EOP students and to other students, such as those on academic probation or in jeopardy of disqualification. Populations include Education Opportunity Program and Intensive Learning Experience students.

Student Support Services

University Hall 179

657-278-7982

The Student Support Services program offers numerous services for college students to improve their academic performance. Through services such as instructional support, tutoring and mentoring, the program gives students the educational tools necessary to be successful at Cal State Fullerton.

Summer Bridge

University Hall 143

657-278-2288

This six-week summer residential program allows new students to become accustomed to living and working on campus. Instructional support is provided in English and reading. In addition, specialized workshops are offered to help improve listening and communication skills. The program provides a good opportunity for new students to establish a strong network of friends, and faculty and staff members whom the student can rely on for help during the academic year.

Testing Services

University Hall 229

657-278-3838

The University Testing Center provides test information and registration materials to students and members of the community who need to take exams in order to fulfill their educational goals. The center also serves as a testing site for several national, state and institutional testing programs required for admission to the university, placement in classes and graduation.

STUDENT HEALTH AND COUNSELING CENTER

Student Health Services - West Building

657-278-2800

fullerton.edu/SHCC

Student Health Services is an accredited, outpatient medical facility providing a variety of health care services to currently enrolled CSUF students. Most basic services are prepaid during registration with a University Health Fee while other additional services are offered at very affordable, reduced pricing. Our excellent staff of physicians, nurse practitioners, registered nurses, and other licensed medical professionals are committed to supporting CSUF students in achieving their academic success by teaching them how to stay well and recover more quickly should they become ill or injured. Services include general medical care, physical therapy, orthopedics, immunizations, pharmacy, Family PACT services, nutrition counseling, health education, HIV/STI testing, acupuncture, chiropractic, optometry, laboratory services and X-Ray. Appointments can be made online, in person, or by calling the number above. Please visit our website for more information and/or to make an appointment at fullerton.edu/SHCC.

The Student Health and Counseling Center (SHCC) is accredited by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care. SHCC is HIPAA compliant and patient confidentiality is rigorously maintained.

UNIVERSITY LEARNING CENTER

Pollack Library North

657-278-2738

fullerton.edu/ulc

The mission of the University Learning Center (ULC) is to provide CSUF students with academic support that will assist them in becoming independent learners in an inviting and contemporary environment. We believe that all learners need support that extends beyond the classroom to reinforce and amplify daily lessons; we create learning opportunities outside of the classroom that involve collaborative activities for students, faculty, and staff; we strive to support the academic enterprise and ensure that every student has the opportunity to succeed.

To accomplish this mission, the University Learning Center provides students with a variety of academic support services that are consistent with their learning styles. The carefully selected and trained ULC staff works with all students from diverse backgrounds in numerous courses including those in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) areas; in humanities and social sciences; as well as in other subjects. The ULC staff also provides study skills and test-taking strategies as well as pronunciation and writing support for English learners.

Research shows that students who engage in tutoring, attend study groups, and participate in skill building workshops achieve higher grades than those who do not which leads to increased opportunities for retention and graduation.

WOMEN'S CENTER/ADULT REENTRY/VETERANS

STUDENT SERVICES

University Hall 205

657-278-3928

The Women's Center's primary objective is to foster a greater awareness of women's issues. Its goal is to promote gender equity through improved communication between women and men. It is open to all interested students. The center's hours are from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday.

The Women's Center is a place for all students – women and men. It is an outstanding place for students to receive support, information and resources to help them explore issues of gender equity, as well as contemporary gender issues.

Programs and services include speakers, skill-building workshops, developmental groups, resource information and referrals. Cultural diversity and what that means for women of color is of special concern to the Women's Center. African-American women, Asian women and Latinas will find groups and books specific to the concerns of each of these populations. The Women's Cultural Resource Center, part of the Women's Center, provides excellent internship opportunities for students.

The Women's Center has developed a community education program to decrease violence against women. The program focuses on training and internships for students who seek to work in the area of domestic violence prevention. Education on the sociology and prevention of date violence, stalking, sexual harassment and sexual assault are also available.

The Adult Reentry Center serves adults who, after a break in their education, are considering beginning or continuing their college education. The center provides support and guidance for currently enrolled reentry students and others whose needs differ from those of the traditional university student. The center also provides information and assistance with University application and registration procedures, as well as personal, academic and career counseling. Special programs, groups, workshops, films and discussions that focus on the special needs of reentry students are presented each semester. Evening hours are available.

Veterans Student Services serves military veterans as they transition to university studies. The advocacy program for new and returning student veterans is critical to campus connectivity, both academic and social. The principal services for advocacy include new student welcome and information session, tutoring (veteran to veteran), developmental coaching in student to professor communication, mentor program, and study and computer room specifically for student veterans. Veterans Student Services staff is available to student veterans to be of assistance with difficulties such as college entrance, VA certification, adding/dropping classes, leave of absence, and mental health issues. Veteran's Services offers special events focused on the retention and success of the veteran population.

INTRODUCTION

An active campus life provides educational opportunities outside of the classroom at California State University, Fullerton. Students can take full advantage of the many activities, programs and seminars offered as part of a well-developed co-curriculum on campus. Students not only attend events but also participate in the planning and implementation of a full slate of activities held throughout the year.

DEAN OF STUDENTS OFFICE

The Dean of Students Office creates learning environments in which students may explore their intellectual, emotional, social, ethical and identity development with the support of professional staff resources. Students are empowered to embrace all of the learning opportunities at the University as they become responsible community members through program planning, leadership opportunities, and development and enforcement of community standards. Students are challenged and also supported as they participate and learn. Programs and support services are provided to student organizations, student leaders, new students, and other members of the campus. In turn, students then provide programs and services to the student body, the broader CSUF community, and the local area through community service and serving-learning activities. We want students to graduate having developed character, civility towards others, sensitivity to community needs, and an improved ability to contribute to society as a result of their participation. The Dean of Students Office is also a key point of contact for students with concerns, parents with questions and community members.

JUDICIAL AFFAIRS

Titan Student Union 235
657-278-4436

Students are expected to conduct themselves as mature and responsible members of the campus community. The Judicial Affairs officer conducts educational workshops that promote and educate students about campus expectations for academic integrity, civility, and appropriate standards of conduct. This office is responsible for coordination of the established judicial procedures if there is an allegation that University standards have been violated.

LEADERSHIP AND MULTICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

Greek Life

Titan Student Union 235
657-278-3211

Greek Life refers to the fraternity and sorority community of the campus. The terms 'fraternity' and 'sorority' describe groups of men and women who join together to offer fellowship, academic support, leadership training, participation in campus activities and service to the community. These organizations are referred to as Greek chapters because they use the Greek alphabet to represent a motto and a set of virtues. Greek Life has a strong and rich tradition at CSUF. It represents the largest student community on campus and provides invaluable college experience. Students can join a fraternity or sorority in one of four student-run councils: Interfraternity Council (IFC), Multicultural Greek Council (MCGC), National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) and Panhellenic Council (PHC).

Multicultural Leadership Center

Titan Student Union 234

657-278-7366

The Multicultural Leadership Center seeks to create learning environments that actively engage the campus community with in- and out-of-classroom experiences through the education and celebration of diversity, multiculturalism and social justice. The center provides services through three primary areas: (1) resources, including a library and student organization advisement; (2) programming, including cultural welcomes and graduation celebrations; and (3) leadership and diversity training including EMBRACE, specialized group and classroom training, and SafeSpace.

Student Leadership Institute

Titan Student Union 235

657-278-3211

The Student Leadership Institute (SLI) is a co-curricular leadership training program for Cal State Fullerton, Santa Ana College, Santiago Canyon College, and Rio Hondo College students. SLI provides skill-building workshops, leadership positions, and experiential and reflection opportunities to help students develop the skills necessary for effective leadership. Each year, approximately 300 students from a cross-section of majors and class levels enroll in the two-semester certificate program. Most have little to no experience in a leadership role. Certificate tracks include: Career Leadership, Educating Myself for Better Racial Awareness and Cultural Enrichment (EMRACE), Emerging Leaders, Global Leadership, Organizational Leadership, and Public Service and Nonprofit Leadership.

NEW STUDENT AND PARENT PROGRAMS

Student Information and Referral Center

University Hall 178

657-278-2501

The Student Information and Referral Center (SIRC) is a place where new and continuing students can get questions answered and learn about on-campus services and programs designed to help them be successful at Cal State Fullerton. SIRC provides general campus and referral information, as well as assistance with the orientation and campus tour reservation process. In addition, SIRC is the home of New Student and Parent Programs, which assists new students and their family members in making a successful transition to the University. SIRC is open Monday through Thursday 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Orientation Programs

All first-time freshmen are required to attend New Student Orientation in order to fulfill their mandatory academic advisement requirement. All transfer students are required to complete an overview of University requirements via Transfer Student Orientation or an online tutorial. Visit fullerton.edu/orientation for more information.

Orientation provides first-time freshmen, new transfer students, and family members with an introduction to the opportunities for learning at CSUF both in and out of the classroom. A strong emphasis is placed on general education and major advisement as well as registering for courses (freshmen only). The programs also provide a place to meet campus community members, and obtain an overview of the services and resources at CSUF.

Titan Weeks of Welcome (WOW)

Titan Weeks of Welcome are an opportunity to join with others in the CSUF community to welcome new students and kick off the new academic term. Titan Weeks of Welcome are held during the first two weeks of the fall and spring semesters. Events and programs offered during Titan WOW range from information stations to Discoverfest, an activities and involvement fair held in the Quad. Visit fullerton.edu/titanwow for details.

Campus Tours

Visit fullerton.edu/tours to schedule a tour of the campus. Tours are offered Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10 a.m. as well as Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 3 p.m. Group tours for 15 or more people should be scheduled by calling 657-278-2501 a minimum of three weeks in advance of the desired tour date and time. Daily tours last approximately 90 minutes; group tours last 45 to 60 minutes.

Parent Programs

Cal State Fullerton is committed to partnering with parents to help students succeed in their academic and personal growth. Titan Parents is designed to provide information and resources to parents so they can serve as active partners in their students' success, foster a sense of Titan pride and community, as well as cultivate fundraising opportunities among the growing parent network. Visit fullerton.edu/titanparents.htm for more information.

Ask the Titans

Ask the Titans is an information service designed to answer any question from a student, faculty member, staff member or guest. Visit fullerton.edu/ask for details.

Freshman Programs

Staff members in New Student & Parent Programs work closely with Academic Affairs to facilitate a variety of freshman learning communities such as Fullerton First Year, Compass and more, all designed to assist first-year students in making a successful transition to college life at Cal State Fullerton. Visit fullerton.edu/freshmanprograms for more information.

STUDENT LIFE

Student Organization Resource Center

Titan Student Union 247

657-278-7622

The Student Organization Resource Center provides information about club meeting times, dates and locations. Categories of clubs include academic, honor, cultural, professional, religious and recreational. Academic and professional organizations are either closely affiliated with academic areas at Cal State Fullerton and/or have national professional affiliation. Students who want to meet and get to know others who are interested in similar types of co-curricular activities can join one of the 210 active student clubs and organizations on campus. These groups offer students a chance to network with faculty and community members who have similar career interests. The Student Organization Resource Center also provides training programs and services to student leaders and faculty and staff advisers responsible for coordinating student organizations. Services include organization registration, mailboxes, room reservations, and event planning advice and resources.

Volunteer and Service Center

Titan Student Union 2

657-278-7623

The Volunteer and Service Center connects students with volunteer opportunities. The center provides quality service to the surrounding community while broadening the knowledge and experience of the servers as responsible and active members in a democratic society.

The Volunteer and Service Center provides a wide range of community service projects that are student-run and dedicated to issues such as tutoring and mentoring, environmentalism, hunger and homelessness and social justice. Additionally, students can use the center to fulfill service-learning requirements. Community service programs provide a variety of experiences, including volunteer work, internships, academic credit projects, and some compensated experiences. The center will help place students in both on-campus and off-campus agencies.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS, CSUF, INC.

Titan Student Union 207

657-278-3295

asi.fullerton.edu

Associated Students, CSUF, Inc. (ASI) is a campus involvement connection at Cal State Fullerton. ASI offers a variety of learning experiences through its government, programs and services. Many campus special events are the product of student efforts to bring students new educational opportunities, teach them about the campus, and provide a friendly, social atmosphere at CSUF.

ASI is a non-profit corporation supported by the activity fee students pay through registration each semester. By paying this fee, students are automatically members of ASI. The purpose of the corporation is to provide academic and co-curricular programs and services for students. When students are involved in ASI, they are a part of an energetic, productive group learning valuable organization and communication skills that can augment their personal and professional growth. Find out more at asi.fullerton.edu.

ASI Government

The ASI government controls the actions of the corporation; it is a powerful, active organization that has a need for students with all types of talents and skills. To apply for a position or find out more about student government, visit the ASI executive staff office in the Titan Student Union.

ASI President and Executive Vice President

The ASI president and executive vice president are chosen through student elections each spring and lead the corporation. These officers represent students' needs and interests to CSUF's faculty and administration, and to the surrounding community, and participate in several University committees. Along with the executive staff, the president and executive vice president submit recommendations to the ASI Board of Directors on the corporation's annual budget of more than $6.7 million.

ASI Executive Staff

The executive staff works with the president and executive vice president to direct the programs and operation of the corporation. All executive staff members are appointed by the ASI president. Students may apply for these positions in the ASI government office.

The ASI vice president for finance coordinates the budget process. The chief administrative officer recruits students for presidential appointments and implements special projects. The chief governmental officer is the CSUF representative to the California State Student Association. This statewide organization influences decisions about education, fee schedules and related topics. The chief communications officer is responsible for marketing the corporation and communicating with the campus community. Student volunteers are assigned specific duties according to the needs of the corporation.

ASI Board of Directors

The ASI Board of Directors is composed of two representatives from each college who are elected to serve one-year terms. The ASI president, executive vice president, executive staff members, executive director, one faculty council representative, and one appointee of the University president also sit on the board. Directors sit on various board subcommittees and other University committees.

These directors represent the student body and work with the executive staff to implement programs that fulfill students' academic and co-curricular needs. They deal with issues regarding the business and affairs of the corporation, including approving budgets and appointments, authorizing business contracts, and issuing policy statements for administrative purposes.

The weekly meetings of the ASI Board of Directors are held in the Legislative Chambers in the Titan Student Union. All students are welcome to attend. Board seats are open to all qualifying students. Election applications are available at the midpoint of each semester in the ASI executive staff office in the Titan Student Union.

ASI Productions

Titan Student Union 268

657-278-3501

ASI Productions provides the University community with a variety of entertainment events through its major weekly series: Monday Noontime Karaoke in the Pub, Tuesday Noontime Open Mic in the Pub, Wednesday Noontime Concerts in Becker Amphitheater, Thursday Pub Shows in the Titan Student Union's Underground and Thursday Night Movies at Titan Theater in the Titan Student Union. Musical acts in the Amphitheater and the Pub encompass a range of genres including rock, ska, jazz, pop, Latin/salsa and country. Films shown include both recent releases, as well as classics. Additionally, ASI Productions Union and Special Programming programs a variety of smaller eclectic acts and larger participatory events on campus. The series are free to all Cal State Fullerton community members. If you are interested in finding out more about ASI Productions or becoming a part of the ASI Productions staff, please contact the administrative director.

Association for Intercultural Awareness (AICA)

Titan Student Union 261

657-278-2914

AICA exists to enhance the University experience of Cal State Fullerton students by raising the awareness of and by celebrating the multicultural student population of Cal State Fullerton. Member organizations desire to promote understanding, tolerance and celebration of these many cultures. As a program of Associated Students, CSUF, Inc., AICA is responsible for the channeling of ASI funds to member organizations to provide the campus with multicultural programming. As a programming body, AICA sponsors the yearly AICA week to increase dialogue and discussion about cultural issues on campus. Please contact the chair for more information about AICA or to inquire about membership.

Camp Titan

Titan Student Union 269

657-278-3036

Founded in 1969 as the philanthropy of Cal State Fullerton students, Camp Titan provides 150 underprivileged Orange County children with a free summer camp experience each June. The tradition continues with 50 Cal State Fullerton students volunteering over 220 hours of their time to make the camp possible by serving as program staff and counselors. The goal of the camp is to teach children to raise self-esteem, heighten social skills and confidence, build a respect for nature and develop new friendships.

The camp is sponsored and managed by Associated Students, CSUF, Inc. Please contact the camp director for more information or to become part of Camp Titan.

Titan Tusk Force

Titan Student Union 249B

657-278-2542

Titan Tusk Force is a program that promotes Titan Pride through a variety of programs and events throughout the year. From hosting fun-filled carnival and spirit week events to tailgates and pep rallies before athletic rivalry games, Titan Tusk Force encourages students to become active, spirited and proud participants in their University community. The Titan Rewards Program, a program sponsored by Titan Tusk Force, rewards students for attending campus and CSUF athletic events with emblematic CSUF paraphernalia. Students can attend all Titan Tusk Force and CSUF Athletic events for free and can also take an active role by getting involved with Titan Tusk Force. Please contact the director for more information about Titan Tusk Force events or how to get involved.

Inter-Club Councils

Titan Student Union 269

657-278-7736

The Inter-Club Councils serve as a funding council for student organizations connected to academic programs and majors. Inter-Club Councils are responsible for the channeling of ASI funds to member organizations to provide the campus with a variety of co-curricular activities including speakers, symposia, publications and the like. For more information, contact the assistant dean of the respective college.

Children's Center

657-278-2961

The Children's Center is sponsored and funded by Associated Students, CSUF, Inc. This National Association for the Education of Young Children-accredited program provides care and education for children ages 4 months to 5 years whose parents are CSUF students, faculty or staff. Fees are on a sliding scale.

Legal Information and Referral

Annex Office on Campus, Titan Student Union 258

657-278-5850 or 714-870-5757

Associated Students, CSUF, Inc. contracts with the College Legal Clinic, a Fullerton-based corporation, to provide information on legal procedures and initial consultation on all types of legal matters. If desired, students are referred to Orange County attorneys for reduced fee services. A 24-hour hot line is maintained by the College Legal Clinic.

Titan Student Union

The Titan Student Union is located on the northwest corner of campus and provides areas for club and organizational meetings, recreation, relaxation, food service and study. Each semester a portion of student fees helps support the services available.

Titan Student Centers Governing Board

The Titan Student Centers Governing Board establishes operating policies for the Titan Student Union and the Student Recreation Center. Board members include students, faculty, an alumni representative, administrative representatives and an appointee of the University president. Additionally, the board also evaluates the programs and services of the Titan Student Union and the Student Recreation Center.

Board members are involved in several committees. Among them are: the Food Services Committee, Advisory Committee, Art Acquisition Committee, Committee on Planning, and the Committee on Services. Any student may apply for a board position.

Information and Services

TSU Information and Services has the answer to most questions about CSUF. It's the place to purchase tickets for area theme parks, campus events and local movie theaters; receive vending machine refunds; retrieve lost belongings from "lost and found"; and obtain general campus information.

University Conference Center

This office provides meeting/event facilities and related services in the Titan Student Union for student groups, faculty/staff groups, and for the surrounding community. While specific room rental rates vary, some facilities are frequently available at no charge to CSUF-chartered student organizations.

Amphitheatre

The Becker Amphitheatre was built by Associated Students, CSUF, Inc. in conjunction with the Titan Student Union. The amphitheatre, located just southeast of the Titan Student Union, is used for noontime concerts, theatre productions and other live entertainment.

Center Gallery

The Center Gallery offers displays of student, graduate and faculty artwork. Exhibits usually feature the work of a single artist and are shown for three weeks. All exhibits are chosen by a student art gallery coordinator.

Graphic Services

Titan Student Union Graphic Services develops quality flyers, brochures, logos, letterhead and posters. Services include illustration, layout design, paste-up and desktop publishing.

Mainframe Computer Lounge

Aside from the study lounges, this is one of the most popular services offered by the Titan Student Union. Here, students can use personal computers to give their assignments that professional look.

The area also features soft chairs, bright lights for reading, and a counter full of magazines. The Mainframe Lounge has a wide selection of the latest music CDs including rock, alternative, jazz, classical and country-western music. Headsets are available for personal listening.

Round Table Pizza Pub, Food Court, Garden Cafe

The Pub's congenial atmosphere offers a place to relax and sells soft drinks, beer and wine, and Round Table Pizza. Major sporting events are shown on the Pub's televisions, and music is played continuously. The Pub is located on the Titan Student Union's lower level.

The Food Court is located on the main level of the Titan Student Union and features a variety of food offerings including national and regional chains such as Togo's, Green Burrito and Juice It Up! Visitors also enjoy fast, healthy and diverse food selections from Mexican to Asian, and sandwiches to grill selections.

The Garden Cafe is located on the lower plaza of the Titan Student Union and offers a unique cafe menu in a pleasant outdoor garden setting.

Titan Bowl and Billiards

It's mostly fun 'n' games on the lower level of the Titan Student Union. This recreation area offers a place for diversions that include a lounge with large screen televisions, a billiard room, video and pin-ball games, locker rentals, small table games and the Titan Bowl. The CSUF community is invited to participate in the various bowling leagues and tournaments sponsored each semester.

Titan Theatre and Pavilion

The Titan Theatre and Pavilion are available to clubs and organizations for meetings, conference lectures, and other presentations. They can be reserved through the University Conference Center office.

Titan Recreation Student Recreation Center 657-278-PLAY

Believing that recreation and leisure pursuits are an integral part of one's total educational experience and achievement, Titan Recreation, a program of the Titan Student Union, strives to provide all students with an opportunity to use their leisure time wisely in order to attain the highest degree of physical reward and mental relaxation.

The benefits of the recreation program are numerous, and it has been proven time and again, that those who maintain good health and physical fitness perform better in all aspects of life.

Student Recreation Center

The CSUF Student Recreation Center is a comprehensive fitness, recreation, education and social facility. The 95,000-square-foot center features state-of-the-art fitness equipment, indoor gyms, multimedia cardio room, indoor track, rock wall, an outdoor pool and more. The center's program is organized to serve individual and group fitness training; non-credit group exercise classes; campus intramural sports programs; and otherwise promote and encourage students to take part in healthy leisure time activities.

Intramural Sports

The Intramural Sports Program is a student-funded, recreational-based program of competitive leagues and tournaments. The program is accessible to all CSUF students, faculty and staff. Activities such as flag football, ultimate Frisbee, basketball, softball, and volleyball are scheduled at various times and days to accommodate individual schedules.

Group Exercise Classes

Titan Recreation offers non-credit group exercise classes such as kickboxing, yoga and dance classes. No registration required. Just “drop in.”

Instructional Classes

Titan Recreation offers a wide variety of instructional classes. Instructional class categories include: dance, music and fitness, martial arts, first aid and CPR, rock climbing and more. Please call to register in advance.

From humble beginnings and with modest resources, the Cal State Fullerton Titans have achieved successes that are the envy of many older and larger universities across the country. The Titans have won 12 national team championships in seven different sports and have produced hundreds of individual All-Americans, dozens of professional athletes, several Olympians, and numerous national coach of the year award winners. A National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I-AAA institution, Cal State Fullerton competes in the Big West Conference, sponsoring six men's and nine women's sports.

Student-athletes at Cal State Fullerton must manage full course loads in identified degree programs, meet progress-towards-degree and grade point average requirements, and manage intense competitive, practice and other responsibilities as representatives of the University. Meeting these challenges requires self-discipline and time management skills that are among the core learning outcomes of the experience. Coaching staffs work together with department administrators and Athletic Academic Services (see below) to support student-athletes both directly and through referrals to the array of services available to students on campus. Graduation rates, honor roll percentages and other academic measures show student-athletes compare favorably to the general student body.

The competitive profile and geographic expansion of the Big West Conference has increased in recent years with the University of Hawaii, San Diego State University, and Boise State University joining Cal Poly, Cal State Northridge, Long Beach State, UC Davis, UC Irvine, and UC Santa Barbara, along with Cal State Fullerton. In addition to the opportunities for student-athletes to travel to these institutions, this expansion has led to more opportunities for supporters of Titan Athletics to watch and follow via various media outlets, including national, regional and local, television, along with web-based platforms.

ATHLETICS PROGRAMS

Baseball

Cal State Fullerton is one of the nation's elite Division I baseball programs. In the year of its establishment in 1975, the program advanced to the College World Series. The Titans have won numerous conference and regional titles, competing in the NCAA playoffs virtually every season. Through 2012, it had made 16 CWS appearances and won four national championships (1979, 1984, 1995 and 2004). Fullerton has produced three Golden Spikes Award national players of the year. Numerous Titans have played for Team USA, five have been Olympians and more than 50 have gone on to play in the major leagues. Completed in 1992 and expanded in 2000, Goodwin Field has become a regular host of NCAA regional and super regional tournaments.

Men's Basketball

Men's basketball was the first sport in which Cal State Fullerton competed (1960-61), and the program has produced many memorable moments in its first half century. The program's second team advanced to the finals of the NAIA national tournament in 1962 and became a national "Cinderella" story in 1978 when the Titans reached the Western Regional finals of the NCAA Tournament in only their fourth year at the Division I level. Subsequently, the Titans have gone on to post-season play five more times through 2011-12. The program has produced more than a dozen NBA players.

Women's Basketball

A Kodak All-American, an Olympic silver medalist coach and player, the nation's leading scorer and the nation's top 3-point shooter are all achievements that can be claimed by the Cal State Fullerton women's basketball program. The program won the University's first national title in 1970, one of the first national championships for any intercollegiate women's sport. The program compiled a record of 121-13 in its first seven seasons. In 1991, the Titans made it to the second round of the NCAA playoffs and finished with several conference and NCAA records.

Cross Country

Cross country is a Cal State Fullerton program with a successful tradition. Mark Covert was the NCAA College Division individual champion in 1970 when the Titans placed second nationally. A year later, they won the team championship and in 1972 placed third. The Titans annually honor Covert and his teammates by hosting the Mark Covert Invitational Meet at Carbon Canyon Regional Park over the Labor Day weekend.

Men's Golf

Men's golf returned to Cal State Fullerton for the 2009-10 academic year with a major financial boost from honorary alumnus Paul Folino. The program began competing immediately in the upper echelon of the Big West Conference and by 2012 was in the hunt for the conference championship. The Titans benefit from a rare on-campus chipping and putting green facility that they share with the women's team, and play on several popular local courses. Their aggressive schedule takes them to some of the nation's finest links.

Women's Golf

Women's golf also returned to the Cal State Fullerton during the 2009-10 academic year and was also an immediate competitor the Big West Conference. Coach Pearl Sinn-Bonanni, a former U.S. Amateur champion and LPGA player, launched the program and by 2012 the Titans were winning tournaments and challenging for the Big West Conference title. The women share the on-campus chipping and putting green facility with the men's team and play on some of the nation's most challenging courses.

Men's Soccer

A pair of national final four appearances highlight the history of men's soccer at Cal State Fullerton, which boasts one of the finest facilities in the nation in the 10,000-seat Titan Stadium. The program has defeated the national number one ranked team on five separate occasions and several of its alumni have gone on to compete at the professional level.

Women's Soccer

Women's soccer has won several conference championships, including one in 2012, and made a number of NCAA playoff trips. The Titans advanced to the "Sweet Sixteen" in 2005, the deepest advance to date by a Big West Conference member. Fullerton benefits from one of the nation's finest soccer facilities in 10,000-seat Titan Stadium. Program alumni include national scoring leaders and an Olympian.

Softball

The Anderson Family Softball Complex is a 1,000-plus capacity facility that annually hosts two of the nation's premier in-season tournaments. The Titans are one of a relatively small number of schools to claim an NCAA softball championship, winning the title in 1986. They have finished sixth in the nation or better seven times through 2012. Inaugural Coach Judi Garman built her Hall of Fame career around a 20-year CSF record of 913-376-4. Three Titans have won the Honda-Broderick Award as the nation's top with two of these athletes going on to coach major college programs.

Women's Tennis

The Titans have an eight-court facility on campus and are able to play most of their matches at home as they welcome national opponents from the east and north, all looking to play outdoors in mild temperatures in February, March and April. The Titans annually open the season with the CSF Intercollegiate Tournament over three days in late October or early November.

Women's Indoor Track and Field

Cal State Fullerton established an indoor program for the 2000-01 season. The Titans have been competitive in select events in Flagstaff, Arizona; Reno, Nevada; and Seattle, Washington.

Men's and Women's Outdoor Track and Field

The phrases "champion sprinters" and "Cal State Fullerton" have often gone hand-in-hand as the Titans' track and field program continues to develop. Top performers include a two-time Big West Conference Female Track Athlete of the Year and only the second Big West athlete to win the conference championship four times in the same event.

Women's Volleyball

The Titans blossomed in 2010 as they enjoyed their first conference championship, first national Top 25 ranking, first coach of the year trophy, first NCAA Tournament appearance and second conference player of the year award. The Big West Conference has produced several NCAA champions and recent additions to the conference promise even more competitive opportunities for the Titan Volleyball team.

657-278-3057

Athletics Academic Services works closely with faculty, coaches and other student support services to ensure the academic success of Titan student-athletes. The mission of Athletics Academic Services is to provide effective life skills and academic support services for CSUF student-athletes to encourage timely graduation and to ensure student-athletes receive the information they need to be in compliance with institutional and NCAA rules governing continuing eligibility.

AFRICAN AMERICAN RESOURCE CENTER

Humanities 222

657-278-3230

The African American Resource Center provides resources, services, programs and events that focus on the total integration and success of African American students, faculty and staff. Originally established in 2005, the center also complements the University's efforts in building a sense of community. It serves as a tool for empowerment of the diverse segments of the University population through increased accessibility to scholarly research, cultural awareness/education, and collaborative activities.

ANTHROPOLOGY MUSEUM

McCarthy Hall 424

The Museum of Anthropology is an educational and research resource for the University and the community. It houses, sponsors and conducts a variety of activities as part of the CSUF Anthropology program, from lecture series to exhibits. Exhibits in the museum have included artifacts from California, the Middle East, Mesoamerica, the Southwest and Oceania.

BEGOVICH GALLERY

Since 1963 the Begovich Gallery at California State University, Fullerton has presented exhibitions and produced corresponding publications that have made substantive scholarly contributions to the field of visual culture. The Begovich Gallery fosters cross-disciplinary interaction and study, and its exhibitions function as instructional tools that inspire and challenge students and faculty. The highly publicized gallery projects represent the most visible and direct bridge between the Art Department and the general community.

In 1970, the Begovich Gallery moved to its current location in the Visual Arts Department. In subsequent years, the gallery has earned international recognition for its Museum Studies and Exhibition Design graduate program that provides students with practical and conceptual experience.

CHICANA AND CHICANO RESOURCE CENTER

Pollak Library South 170A and 171
657-278-2537

The Chicana and Chicano Resource Center provides support for the academic, research and cultural interests of students, faculty, staff and community. The center was originally established in 1972 as a specially funded project to develop the University's collection on Mexico and the Southwest. Consequently the center is responsible for building a complete collection of materials related to the Chicano experience. Although the vast majority of materials, especially books and periodicals, are dispersed throughout Pollak Library and are made available for study and research through library-wide retrieval mechanisms, the center serves as a readily identifiable research center that provides a host of specialized services and collections.

The Chicana and Chicano Resource Center supports the collaboration and creation of scholarly works between faculty and students on issues such as history, culture, education, and other contemporary issues of Chicanos in the United States. Thus, the center provides support to the Department of Chicana and Chicano Studies and other related disciplines in developing specialized resources for study and research. The center further enhances existing University support services to ensure the recruitment and retention of Chicano/Latino students at the University, and supports and facilitates dialogue on the Chicano experience among students and across the University.

The center is a great place for students to locate resources on Latino themes and topics for all majors, locate scholarship and workshop/conference information, hold student organization meetings, and participate in networking opportunities.

DAILY TITAN

Cal State Fullerton's Daily Titan is recognized as one of the best college newspapers in the United States. In recent years, the Titan and its reporters, editors and designers have won hundreds of regional and national awards.

Both its print and online edition have won awards from such organizations as the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press, Society of News Design, Society of Professional Journalists and California College Media Association.

The Daily Titan is published every Monday through Thursday throughout the academic year. It is produced, written and edited entirely by Cal State Fullerton students. Video news reports for the Titan's website and all photographs are produced by CSUF students.

The Daily Titan has a daily readership of more than 22,000. It is distributed at more than 40 locations on campus, as well as in news racks near the University and at the Irvine Campus.

Work on the Daily Titan provides intensive experience in news writing, copy editing, page layout, web production and the myriad other functions necessary to produce a modern daily newspaper and website.

FULLERTON ARBORETUM

The Fullerton Arboretum, a 26-acre botanical garden, is located on the northeast corner of campus. The gardens contain plants from around the world.

The recirculating waterfall, streams and ponds are a focal point for migratory waterfowl and visitors from the University and surrounding communities. The Arboretum is an island of serenity in an increasingly metropolitan environment.

The Arboretum also offers opportunities to study local history and culture at the Heritage House and the Orange County Agriculture and Nikkei Heritage Museum. Heritage House is the restored residence and medical office of Dr. George C. Clark, an Orange County pioneer physician. The Clark home was built in 1894 and exemplifies the Eastlake Victorian style of architecture. The Orange County Agriculture and Nikkei Heritage Museum displays exhibits that tell the story of Orange County's early agrarian days. Both are open to the public on weekends and weekdays by reservation.

The CSUF Associated Students, Inc. (ASI) contributes monies each year to hire students to help in the maintenance and operation of the Arboretum.

The Fullerton Arboretum is open 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., seven days a week. The Arboretum is closed on Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day. For more information, visit fullertonarboretum.org.

GRAND CENTRAL ART CENTER

125 N. Broadway
Santa Ana
714-567-7234

The City of Santa Ana and California State University, Fullerton formed an innovative alliance in 1993 to create the University's Grand Central Art Center, located in downtown Santa Ana in the heart of the Artists Village. The center, which opened in spring 1999, is housed in a block-long, 45,000-square-foot facility. The $7.5-million renovation of the historic 1924 building was a joint venture designed to bring together art, education and the community.

The Grand Central Art Center provides a setting for graduate arts majors to live, learn and work in an artists' community. In addition to studio and living space for students, the art center houses classrooms, galleries and exhibition spaces, a black-box theater, gallery store and café. The center's 83-seat black-box theater presents lectures, film series, panel discussions and productions by the University's award-winning Theatre and Dance Departments. In addition, the International Artist-in-Residence Program provides the opportunity for professional artists from around the world to live and work at the center while engaging directly with CSUF graduate students and the community.

HERBARIUM

The Fay A. MacFadden Herbarium is named after Fay A. MacFadden, who sold her extensive collection of plants to the University just prior to her death in 1964. The collection now includes more than 25,000 vascular plants, about 12,000 bryophytes and nearly 800 lichen specimens. The plants are used as research and teaching tools.

MATHEMATICS TUTORING CENTER

McCarthy Hall 553

The Mathematics Tutoring Center is available on a drop-in basis to all students enrolled in a mathematics class. Tutors are trained to help students understand the basic concepts necessary to complete homework assignments and to perform well on exams. The center is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Friday from 9 a.m. until noon during the fall and spring semesters. The Mathematics Tutoring Center is directed by Dr. Harriet Edwards.

MODERN LANGUAGE MEDIA CENTER

Humanities 325
657-278-2153

The newly renovated Media Center features a 24-station and a 16-station Tandberg-300 computer lab with multimedia capabilities that instructors can use to facilitate individual and group learning activities. All computers are connected to a private server and the Internet where students can access a wide variety of authentic language materials of the countries and languages they are studying.

OPPORTUNITY CENTER FOR SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS STUDENTS (OCSAMS)

McCarthy Hall 488
657-278-7082

The Opportunity Center for Science and Mathematics Students offers resources for students to enhance their time on campus. Students can take advantage of the center's computers for word processing and Internet access to research many science and math-related websites. The comfortable setting also provides study tables for individual or group study sessions and a conference room that can be reserved for meetings. Tutors for biology, physics and chemistry courses also are available.

The center also provides a wealth of information on scholarships, research programs, career opportunities and graduate school programs. Students can find out how to become involved in student organization activities and learn how to get published in Dimensions: the Journal for Undergraduate Research in Natural Sciences and Mathematics. The assistant dean for Student Affairs in the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics is available for advisement on campus policies, student success skills and campus referrals. The center is open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday.

SPEECH, LANGUAGE AND HEARING CLINIC

The Speech, Language and Hearing Clinic is an integral part of the University's curricular programs leading to a B. A. and M. A. in Communicative Disorders. Since 1961, the Communicative Disorders program, part of the Department of Human Communication Studies (formerly Speech Communication), has provided speech, language and hearing services to the community in conjunction with its academic training program for professional speech-language pathologists. The Communicative Disorders program has been accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology since September 1969.

The clinic, which shares space with the Center for Children Who Stutter, houses several therapy/observation rooms used for a number of different on-campus clinical practicum experiences for students in the Communicative Disorders graduate program, including specialty clinics for 0-3 year olds and clients from culturally-linguistically diverse backgrounds. The clinic is also equipped with clinical research/training labs such as a Speech Acoustics, Voice, Augmentative Alternative Communication lab and a fully equipped Audiology Hearing Suite. Services provided include diagnostic evaluations, therapy, second dialect/accents modification instruction, audiometric testing, hearing evaluations, rehabilitative audiology, and counseling related to communication and hearing concerns. These services are provided under the supervision of certified, licensed clinical and academic faculty who hold doctorate degrees in speech-language pathology or audiology. The clinical staff also includes a resident lead speech-language pathologist and other speech-language-hearing professionals who hold master's degrees in speech-language pathology and/or audiology.

THEATRE AND DANCE DEPARTMENT PRODUCTION

The award-winning Department of Theatre and Dance produces a full subscription season of exciting plays, musicals and dance theatre for the University and surrounding community. Broadway musicals, operas, original plays, cabaret performances and graduate student project productions are just a few of the ongoing offerings.

CSUF's department is ranked as one of the best in the nation and often is represented at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. and other venues through the Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival and the American College Dance Festival.

TITAN COMMUNICATIONS

Titan Communications is a cutting edge media facility in the College of Communications that provides the University and the community with quality digital content production and distribution services.

The facility houses state-of-the-art digital broadcast equipment and video production, non-linear editing suites, digital audio editing bays, Internet radio, animation software, advanced video file storage and Web-casting equipment and servers.

The media facility functions as a laboratory in support of classroom and co-curricular activities, instructionally related activities and students' online media, including Titan Internet Radio, Titan Television, CSUF video magazine shows, and Titan News programs. Titan Communications supports the University's internal and external communications, and the College of Communications online education through its personnel, production studios, Web TV and cable television services.

Under faculty and staff supervision, Titan Communications provides a bridge between the academic and professional settings. Frequently, programs produced by student teams are distributed via video-on-demand on the Internet and on cable systems in Orange County and Southern California.

Titan Communications provides a variety of opportunities for students for developing creative and technical skills, gaining practical hands-on experience and creating electronic portfolios that enhance their academic education and support career opportunities. WRITING CENTERPollak Library North, 1st Floor*657-278-3650

The Writing Center provides tutoring for students from across campus who are seeking assistance with writing assignments or with improving their writing process in general. Tutors offer individual appointments and special-topic workshops designed to help students write clear, concise academic prose. Tutors also work with students on developing techniques for improving their grammar usage and editing skills. The goal of the Writing Center is to increase students' writing competence in both their current and future University classes. For tours and additional information about the Writing Center, visit english.fullerton.edu/writing_center/
