This course will strengthen the internship experience by 1) relating actual business practices to course studies 2) focusing on the development of ethical and professional standards for behavior 3) developing appropriate strategies and tools for career development and planning and 4) having a faculty mentor. The experience will be further enhanced by interaction with fellow students and the professional background of the instructor.

Take FIN 495 & satisfy a requirement for the finance major.

The important features of FIN 495 include the following:

- It will be 3 credits of course work that may fulfill your elective requirements for the finance concentration (or the 15 unit finance requirement in the Acct/Fin Emphasis). To have it count, you must have a Course Substitution form completed and signed by the Chair of the Department of Finance (SGMH 5113), for undergraduate students.
- MBA students with a Generalist or a Finance Concentration may qualify to take this course and apply it to the four course elective. Please see Diane Mazzey, SGMH 4210, in the MBA office for further details and requirements.
- You will receive a letter grade for this 3-credit course and you must complete at least 120 hours of work at your internship site (company). This class will meet every other week during the semester.
- Your site supervisor will be required to work with you and provide feedback and an evaluation of your work at the site (company).
- The best internships are paid and at well-known public corporations. But others are acceptable, including using your current job (it must include finance work) or even research work with a CSUF finance faculty member. Please consult with Professor Huebner. The site (company) must be approved and registered with CICE.
