The Anthropology internship course prepares students for entry into the professional working world. Students who register for the internship course must have sufficient anthropological background to enable independent work at the internship site. One hundred twenty hours of work at an internship site is required. Undergraduates may take ANTH 491 for up to six units.

There are three areas of focus: Archaeology, Evolutionary (U-ACRE) and Cultural. Permits are required for all focuses. CICE registration required for U-ACRE fellows. Not required for all others.

Prerequisites
- Eighteen upper-division units in anthropology and/or related fields
- At least a 2.0 GPA
- Obtain departmental verification and stamp to complete registration

Graduate Students
Although graduate students may not use ANTH 491 toward the 30 units on their Study Plan unless approved by their thesis/project advisor, they may take 15 units beyond the 30 units (the Unit Cap for graduate students is 45), and all of these units will appear on their transcript.

What is an Academic Internship?
At Cal State Fullerton, academic internships are credit-bearing. Students enroll in an internship course and complete course requirements. Anthropology requires you to complete 120-150 hours at your internship site to receive 3 units.

3 units = 120-150 hours
An academic internship is a work-learning partnership between a student, the university, and a host company or organization that bears a direct relationship to a student’s major and professional goals.

Option Two: Find your own
