

South Coast Air Quality Management District (AQMD), located in Diamond Bar, performs work critical to the health and well-being of over 17 million people living in four Southern California counties. We're seeking an AIR QUALITY SPECIALIST, CEQA and we're writing to ask for your assistance in spreading the word.

Our Air Quality Specialists serve as environmental planners and their work is critical to the success of our mission. Because this field is so specialized, traditional advertising is not likely to bring good results, so we hope you might help. If you know of any graduate students, alumni, or colleagues who might be interested, please forward this e-mail to them or direct them to www.aqmd.gov for all details on how to apply.

This is a journey-level position, requiring a related degree and two years' professional experience. The position earns from $6,214 to $7,698 PER MONTH, with excellent benefits and working conditions, and a 4/10 work schedule. This posting is expected to close on January 8, 2008.

We're trying to get the word out quickly, as candidates must submit original transcripts to document their education, which adds time to the process.
