

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS to the MASTER'S DEGREE PROGRAM

http://www.fullerton.edu/catalog/pdf/Admissions_And_Registration.pdf#Graduate_Regulations

The minimum requirements for admission to master's and post baccalaureate studies at a California State University campus are in accordance with University regulations, as well as Title 5, chapter 1, Subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations. Specifically a student shall at the time of enrollment:

1. Have completed a four-year college course of study and hold an acceptable baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, or equivalent preparation as determined by appropriate campus authorities;
2. Be in good academic standing at the last college or university attended;
3. Have attained a grade point average of at least 2.5 in an acceptable earned baccalaureate degree or attained a grade point average of at least 2.5 in the last 60 semesters units (90 quarter units) attempted;
4. Satisfactorily meet the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards for graduate study, included qualifying examinations, as appropriate campus authorities may prescribe.
5. For international students, all applicants, regardless of citizenship, whose native language is other than English are required to submit proof of English proficiency before an admissions decision can be made.

In addition: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) The department requires a bachelor's degree in English or Comparative Literature from an accredited institution with at least a 3.0 grade-point average in the upper-division major courses, provided that a minimum of 24 units of upper-division coursework is included. If the applicant holds a bachelor's degree in another major, 24 units of upper-division coursework in English and/or Comparative Literature must be completed with at least a 3.0 grade-point average before beginning work in the master's degree program. 2) In the event that the applicant's grade-point average in pre-requisite courses is below 3.0, he or she may take additional upper-division English and/or Comparative Literature coursework and reapply to the program. The applicant should consult with the graduate adviser to determine appropriate coursework. Some courses taken to make up qualitative deficiencies may be credited toward the M.A., if completed with a "B" (3.0) or better, and if applicable to the student's particular study plan. Courses taken to remove quantitative deficiencies may not be applied to the M.A. program. 3) A writing sample will also be required of all applicants. The writing sample should demonstrate advanced skill in literary analysis or rhetorical and expository writing. A paper written for an upper-division literature course and analyzing one or more elements in one or more literary works is preferred. The writing sample should be approximately five to 10 pages long, and include secondary research. Applicants who do not have course papers available should contact the department graduate adviser for advice. 4) Applicants must submit three letters of recommendation from individuals best qualified to judge their potential for graduate study in English. 5) All applicants, regardless of citizenship, whose preparatory education was principally in a language other than English, must demonstrate competence in English. Those who do not possess a bachelor's degree from a postsecondary institution where English is the principal language of instruction must receive a minimum TOEFL score of 600 (paper) or 100 (Internet), or 7.5 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS). Students must satisfy a foreign language requirement with one of the following options:
