Come join your fellow Titans in an open discussion regarding politics in today’s ever evolving society. Ask questions, discuss experiences and engage in meaningful conversations to help create a more diverse and welcoming environment on campus for all students.

Open Discussions is a monthly conversation group that discusses important topics and issues that are prevalent in society today. These topics range from gender to race to religion to social inequalities with the goal of allowing members of the Titan community to have an open and safe space to discuss issues in efforts to raise awareness and gain perspective on other individual’s experiences and beliefs.
