1	Mentorship Program: an opportunity for alumni to connect (and receive mentorship) with CSUF, CSU system, other CSU campuses or southern CA leaders.	May 21, 2010 10:04 PM
2	Thanks for the nice reception!	May 21, 2010 10:11 PM
3	For professional development: I like the idea of forming learning communities or groups. Programming/topics, etc. can be developed around the communities/groups and people can join those areas of interest. For LDP colleague support: I would like to see a beginning of the year mixer to welcome the new LDP cohort and introduce them to alumns. It would be great to have a rite of passage event where the board plans a graduation type of event for the current cohort, etc....	May 21, 2010 10:50 PM
4	I'd have to think about it.	May 21, 2010 10:51 PM
5	Somehow the leadership group should be a "go to" group for addressing special projects on campus, especially cross-functional/cross-divisional projects.	May 21, 2010 11:00 PM
6	I have offered to help with the events committee of the LDP alumni board	May 21, 2010 11:41 PM
7	I think the opportunity to remain connected and continue development opportunities is extremely valuable. I think there are aspects of LDP that could be expanded and additional venues for workshops to build on them like public speaking, HR management, strategic planing, diversity, etc. These are some of the things we could have had an additional session on; next level development. 8	Nice job!	May 22, 2010 4:18 PM
9	I would like to more workshops on styles of leadership and how to adjust those to the current CSUF organization.	May 24, 2010 2:32 PM
10	Am interested in the Alumni Board, but wondering what kind of time commitment we are talking about. You all made it look like so much fun!	May 25, 2010 6:20 PM
11	The LDP is a great program; from it I've learned much about leadership, but even more importantly, I've made a lot of new friends and colleagues.	May 28, 2010 3:22 PM
12	Highly recommend to move the group project assignment to any month other than May.	Jun 2, 2010 6:00 PM
13	The LDP Alumni Board is currently doing a wonderful job! :-)	Jun 2, 2010 11:08 PM
14	For me the the best thing that came from the exerieence was the leaders I met during the program. The more we get together the stronger we are.	Jun 3, 2010 3:19 PM
