PREPARE FOR YOUR SUCCESS

Students are required to complete a MANDATORY Title IX Training, accessible through the orientation registration site.

Not Anymore: Protecting Our Campus Community from Sexual Harassment and Interpersonal Violence

GSUF wants to make sure you know how to recognize violence, know the options for reporting violence, the resources available to students who experience violence, and ways our campus works to prevent and raise awareness of violence. In an effort to provide all Titans with information on how to stay safe, all incoming students are required to complete Not Anymore. Not Anymore is a series of videos about how you can prevent and respond to interpersonal violence, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. This training is part of a campaign under "Title IX", a federal regulation that prohibits discrimination and harassment based on sex and gender on our campus. Not Anymore is a required of all students and must be completed before you attend orientation. You can access Not Anymore through the button below. Failure to complete this training prior to orientation may result in the placement of a registration hold. It's on all of us as Titans to intervene to stop discrimination, harassment and violence from occurring.

HOW TO CHANGE MAJORS

OPTIONAL | Students have the option to change their major themselves prior to matriculation. A list of open majors is provided and a student may change as often as they like.

Each time a student changes their major, they will be required to select a new orientation session that is applicable to their new major.
HOW TO SIGN-UP FOR TRANSFER ORIENTATION

Students will be given information on BOTH orientation options:

OPTION 1
In-Person Transfer Orientation

is a first-come, first-served basis until it reaches full capacity.

Option 1: In-Person Transfer Orientation

The in-person Transfer Orientation is a full-day program designed to allow you to meet other transfer students and current CSUF students, receive academic advising, and meet faculty in your major. You will also have an opportunity to connect with a variety of on-campus resources and learn about ways you can get involved on campus to enhance your educational experience. Make your transition to CSUF a smooth and successful one by attending orientation!

In-Person Orientation Costs

The cost of attending orientation is $60 which covers your meals and materials for the day.

Fee Deferrals: Based on anticipated financial aid, some students may be eligible for a fee deferral at the time of registration. This means that while you pay nothing now, collection of the student’s orientation fee will be postponed until 10 days before the start of the term. A student with an Expected Family Contribution of “0” is automatically awarded the deferral if they meet the criteria.

If you are awarded a fee deferral and withdraw from the University you will be responsible for any outstanding orientation fees that will no longer be covered by financial aid. If you do not receive enough financial aid to pay your orientation fees you will be responsible to pay the postponed fees 10 days before the start of the term.

If you register for an in-person orientation and were awarded a fee deferral but later choose to complete the Online Transfer Overview instead, you will still be responsible for the outstanding orientation fee.

Registration Cancellation and No Show Policies:

Once you register for orientation and select a date, you are responsible for attending on the date you have selected. If you withdraw your admissions from the University prior to attending orientation, or cancel your orientation registration, you are not eligible for a refund. All orientation fees are nonrefundable.

Please note that once registered for orientation, the program fees are non-refundable. Completing the Online Transfer Overview does not cancel an existing registration for the in-person orientation.

OPTION 2
The Online Transfer Overview

is available FREE of charge.

Option 2: Online Transfer Overview

The Online Transfer Overview (OTO) is a 45 minute electronic overview of campus resources and services. OTO will highlight important policies, campus resources, and provide you with contact information for advising locations in your Academic College.

Participation in the online overview satisfies the orientation requirement for transfer students but does not provide academic advising. We recommend that students who select this orientation option seek academic advising through an academic department or the Academic Advising Center. Please note that depending on your college you may be required to attend an in-person Transfer Orientation, or attend mandatory advising.

Once registered for an in-person orientation, the program fees are non-refundable, and completing the Online Transfer Overview does not cancel your in-person orientation.

Pay for Orientation Fees. Students will be redirected to Student Financial Services (CashNet) to pay for their orientation fees.

Students will receive a confirmation e-mail upon successful transaction. Students with EFC (Estimated Family Contribution) of 0 will have fee deferred, however must still pay for parents/guests.
