CSUF | COLLEGE OF
The Arts

The College of the Arts is an essential part of the creative fabric of Southern California, proudly serving as both an academic and cultural resource. Home to over 2,600 arts students, it is a living laboratory where success is measured in lines of dialogue, sheets of music, phrases of choreography and slabs of clay. Our alumni leave lasting legacies by contributing to the vitality of the arts nationally and globally and can be found in all facets of the thriving art and entertainment industries. As a public-facing institution, we present hundreds of concerts, productions, exhibitions, workshops, masterclasses, and visiting artists' lectures each year for the campus and community.

A TRADITION OF GIVING

Chartered in 2006, the Alliance for the Performing Arts was established to carry on the legacy of Marcy Arroues Mulville, who is remembered for her generous arts patronage in Orange County as well as her long-standing support of Cal State Fullerton and the College of the Arts.

ADVOCACY IN ACTION

MAKING AN IMPACT

"With support from the Alliance, our students have been able to participate in unique educational experiences that go far beyond the classroom. Opportunities like workshops and meetings with industry professionals and performances in notable venues have helped set them on the path toward performing arts careers. Thank you for your advocacy, for prioritizing the arts, and for helping our students achieve their goals as artists."

– Katie Wilson, Department of Theatre and Dance, Chair

"The opportunity for the University Symphony Orchestra to perform at the world-renowned Carnegie Hall in NYC was a once-in-a-lifetime experience our students will always carry with them as musicians and global citizens."

– Kimo Furumoto, conductor, University Symphony Orchestra
