ANNUAL REPORT

DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, FULLERTON

Friends and colleagues,

Each year, we have the privilege to partner with our faculty and campus community to transform the lives of students through education. The 2018-19 Student Affairs Annual Report is our latest opportunity to highlight recent contributions of the Division of Student Affairs to the Titan family.

As a Division, our purpose is to holistically educate Titans academically, professionally, and personally. We seek to give opportunities for professional development, diversity training, equity education, career readiness, counseling, wellness, identity development, and so much more. We are proud of the profound impact that we have on our students, and we hope that the following pages provide a comprehensive snapshot of our work. I am deeply grateful for everyone who contributed to this success-filled academic year and for our supporters both near and far. A special thank you to Berenecea Johnson Eanes, Ph.D., who led the work as vice president throughout the 2018-19 academic year before becoming a university president.

Cheers to our next chapter, and please remember: Titans Reach Higher!

Sincerely,

Harry Le Grande

Vice President for Student Affairs

Student Engagement

About

The area of Student Engagement is vital to Cal State Fullerton and its priorities of diversity, inclusion, student involvement, and student care. The Student Engagement team supports students through deep and meaningful programmatic endeavors, fostering a sense of belonging and connectedness on campus, which is essential for high-quality learning outcomes.

DIVERSITY INITIATIVES AND RESOURCE CENTERS

Milestone Moments

- The transformative and supportive space that is the Titan Dreamers Resource Center celebrated its 5th anniversary in April 2019.
 - » Having provided a safe space, and resources for the estimated 1,000 undocumented students, Cal State Fullerton made history by becoming the first campus in the California State University system to open a “dreamer” center.
- The Asian Pacific American Resource Center (APARC) celebrated its 10th anniversary in Fall 2018. Students, faculty, staff and alumni joined together to celebrate with the Asian Pacific Islander Desi American community.

Graduates Celebrate Identity, Culture in Titan Ceremonies

- The annual Cultural Recognition ceremonies continued to flourish thanks to the Diversity Initiatives & Resource Centers (DIRC) staff and community. The cultural ceremonies and celebrations are open to all graduating students, regardless of ethnicity or sexual orientation.

Night Market Extravaganza

- APARC hosted the 4th Annual Titan Night Market featuring musician Melissa Polinar. The event was a collaboration among various APIDA student organizations, campus departments, local businesses, and the Associated Students Inc., CSUF.

“Let’s Chat” Series

- The African American Resource Center (AARC) launched its inaugural “Let’s Chat” Series, which is a new discussion series featuring faculty and staff members from campus. The discussions addressed current topics affecting the African American/Black community, such as Black Affirmation, Navigating the Workplace, and Black Masculinity.

Feria Centroamericana

- In April, the Chicana/Chicano Resource Center assisted student organizations, Central American for Empowerment and DREAM Co-Op, with an inaugural event called, “Feria Centroamericana.” Feria celebrated Central American communities, histories, and cultures. This is important because often Central American perspectives are not always included within the Latinx narratives.

Rise and Pride

- Each month, the LGBTQ Resource Center hosted a program called Rise and Pride to facilitate identity development. Students, staff and faculty engaged in enriching, structured conversations and writing activities on a myriad of topics that related to LGBTQ+ identities.

4th Annual Dreamers Graduate Ceremony

17th Lavender Graduate Recognition Ceremony

Titan Athletics

About

From modest beginnings and never with abundant resources, the Cal State Fullerton Titans have achieved successes that are the envy of many older and larger institutions across the country. "Titan Pride" has been the rallying cry for 12 national team championships in seven different sports, hundreds of individual All-Americans, dozens of eventual professional athletes, numerous national coach of the year award winners, Olympic basketball players, a Miss America candidate and the subject matter of a Walt Disney film.

Historical Run

- Head softball coach Kelly Ford led her team to another conference championship in 2019, marking their fourth straight title. With that the title, the team earned its fourth straight NCAA Tournament berth and the 29th all-time. It is just the third time in Big West Conference history that a program has accomplished that feat.
- Titan softball saw several team members recognized:
 - » Coach Ford was awarded Big West Coach of the Year for the fourth consecutive time, making her the first coach in conference history to win four in a row.
 - » Ari Williams (OF) was named Big West Player of the Year, the first Fullerton recipient since 2016.
 - » Dani Martinez was Big West Freshman Pitcher of the Year.
 - » Alexa Neil (UTIL) was named Big West Co-Freshman Field Player of the Year.

Three-In-A-Row

- After going 29 years without a conference title, head men's and women's track and field coach John Elders has now won three titles in a row. The men's squad won in 2017 and 2018 while the women earned the first title in program history in 2019.
 - » Samantha Huerta, the 2019 Big West Women's Track Athlete of the Year, led the Titans, capturing conference titles in both the 800 meters and 1,500 meters. She became the first Titan in program history to accomplish that feat.

Don't Call It a Comeback

- The Cal State Fullerton men's golf team had one of its best seasons in the history of the program in 2018-19, including a comeback for the ages to win the Big West Tournament and punch its ticket to the NCAA Regionals for the first time since 2014.
 - » Matt Wilson became the first Titan in the history of the program to win the Big West Tournament Individual Championship.

Titan Athletics Cares

- Cal State Fullerton Athletics student-athletes contributed to the community by volunteering 4,633 hours in 2018-19, surpassing the department's established goal of 3,110 hours of community service.
- A key partnership was with Team IMPACT, which improves the quality of life for children facing life-threatening and chronic illnesses through the power of team.

Team IMPACT children are drafted onto the team and become an official member of that team from signing day through graduation. The child joins the athletic team and the student-athletes join the child's support team. Titan baseball, men's soccer, softball and track and field each had a child join their squads through Team IMPACT.

SSI at Work

- As a part of the Student Success Initiative (SSI), Athletics has committed to improving its Baseball and Softball facilities. The department has already received $6.25 million of the $12 million that will be used for the project. These funds will be used to construct new locker rooms, renovate coaches' offices, provide an academic working space and meeting rooms. Construction is on budget and on schedule, with upgrades expected to be complete by 2021.

Leading the Way

Jim Donovan, Titans Athletic Director, was named winner of the Under Armour AD of the Year Award. The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) announced the 28 winners of the award, which spans seven divisions. Donovan was honored as one of four Division 1-AAA athletic directors from across the nation. The award recognizes the efforts of athletics directors at all levels for their commitment and positive contributions to student-athletes, campuses and their surrounding communities.

The Big Ticket

- Athletics ticket sales totaled $534,552 in 2018-19, marking the third straight year of eclipsing $500,000.
 - » Tickets for home events are sold for eight of the Titans' 15 sports.
- Over the last seven years, ticket sales have brought in $3,425,671 and have increased by 46% since the start of competition in 2012-13.

Ticket Revenue

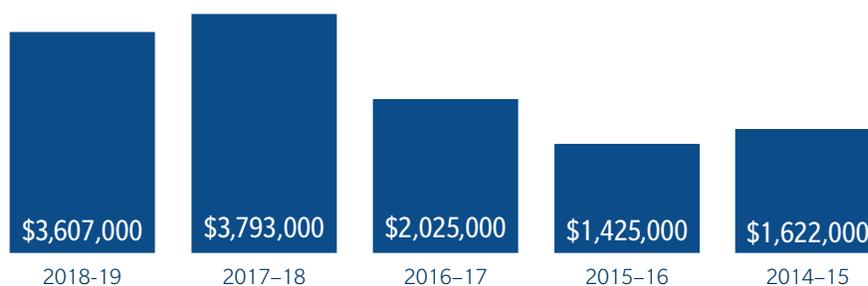

Five On It

Associate Athletic Director for Development Greg Paules and his staff raised over $3.6 million during the 2018-19 school year.

- The last five years represent the five single best years of fundraising in Titan Athletics history. And over the last seven years, athletics has raised just under $14 million and has established a letterwinner's club with more than 485 members
- Looking back over the last five years, each of our teams posted a team-specific fundraiser with 100% of the proceeds going directly towards their specific programs. These included fundraisers such as Dinner with the Titans, where both the Kotch family and the Kargenian family made significant pledges to the baseball program.

Titan Athletics Development

Associated Students, Inc.

About

Associated Students Inc., CSUF provides for student governance, shared governance of the university, programming of student activities, funding of campus organizations and athletics, and the operation of a nationally accredited child development center.
