Senior Year Checklist

By participating in academic advisement opportunities from admission to graduation, you will:

- Analyze and be able to articulate the value of the liberal education you have earned from CSUF and the ways in which it has prepared you to accomplish goals after graduation

- Work collaboratively with faculty to identify internship, civic engagement and service learning opportunities

- Apply the knowledge and make informed decisions based on your interests and personal growth potential

- Discuss graduate school opportunities and further investigate admission standards, required exams, as well as prerequisites if you are interested

- Research application deadlines for identified potential graduate school opportunities and request letters of recommendation from faculty
